

CAVALRY

Chad Fuller

Vice President of Sales & Marketing

Mr. Fuller is a 2000 graduate of Texas A&M University. His professional experience includes residential, multi-family, commercial, and industrial construction with an emphasis in the field of structural mitigation, reconstruction and general construction consulting.

Mr. Fuller's extensive construction experience includes estimating, scheduling, management, design, analysis and production of projects including high rises, mid rises, airport facilities, parking deck structures, light industrial facilities and commercial and residential buildings. He is also experienced in investigating and analyzing repair methods in the construction discipline related to residential, commercial, municipal and light industrial buildings. This also includes roof damage, storm damage, verifying construction compliance with applicable building codes and contract specifications, and construction jobsite safety compliance including OSHA requirements.

Mr. Fuller's background also includes evaluation, renovation and repair of damaged existing structures. These projects have included collapse of structures due to overloading, fires, water events, construction defect, and other catastrophic events. Mr. Fuller has helped owners / insurance companies to formalize project scope, determine construction budgets, review construction documents, monitor construction quality, and monitor project costs and schedules.