

Background on Patricia King, American National Insurance Co.

Patty King is currently the Property Claim Director for American National Insurance Co., Farm Family Casualty.

Patty has over 30 years of experience in both Personal and Commercial lines of business, inclusive of Casualty, Property and Worker's Compensation claims.

Patty joined American National Insurance Co. in 2006 as a Sr. Claim Representative. She has held several other management positions with American National Claim's Division and has also been involved with Catastrophe Management. Prior to her position with American National, Patty has held several claim positions with prominent carriers such as Metropolitan Property & Casualty, Colorado Casualty Insurance Co, and OneBeacon Insurance.

Patty attended the College of St. Rose in Albany, NY as well as the State University of NY at Albany. Her studies included Business Management and Marketing. Patty has obtained her AIC and AINS designations. This is Patty's first time presenting at PLRB. She looks forward to sharing her claims experience with those that are new to the claims industry.
